DRYING UP

Vegetables Are Rapidly Disappearing From the Market.

NOTHING IS GROWING

Gardeners Say That Crops and Vegetables Are Ousted and May Be Ruined Entirely in a Few Days.

HEAT AND DROUGHT IN OTHER PLACES

The drought is alarming. The market is rapidly becoming deserted of gardeners. They have nothing to sell, and consequently do not come to town. What few vegetables that are brought in are dwarfed, burned, and in many cases hardly fit to eat. Every thing has been set back, and in many sections, where there has not been a drop of rain for three weeks or more, the crops are literally burning up.

It is the worst I can remember of," declared Cal. John McNelly, of the Palmer. "I never found it so difficult to get vegetables before. If it lasts much longer we will simply have to go back to our last year's canned goods."

Government observer Thompson, stated that the heat and dry weather was unprecedented for this season and that a little more of hot, dry weather will destroy the corn crop.

Vegetables are being brought here from points as far south as New Orleans—vegetables that are usually raised in great quantities and selling cheap in this section every year. Corn and such things are even brought from Cairo and St. Louis and placed on the market, but it is very little if any, better than the corn raised here, and the enterprise is not proving much of a success.

Yesterday the temperature as recorded by Observer Thompson was 101 in the shade, and today it will be equally as hot. The lowest last night was 72.

Gardeners and farmers say that they will have to quit coming at all in a few days if there is not a change.

IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., July 11.—The temperature went soaring to 100 in the shade again at noon today. The temperature went to 103 at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 11.—Chicago yesterday experienced her hottest day. The temperature went to 102 in the shade at the weather bureau. The highest previous mark was 99 on July 10, 1887.

WARM WEATHER IN KANSAS
Kansas City, Mo., July 11.—The highest temperature yesterday was 101, at 4:30 p. m. The highest temperature in Missouri was 100 at Harrisonville, in Kansas 108, at Fort Scott.

REACHED LOS ANGELES

Omaha, Neb., July 11.—The mercury reached 102 at 3 o'clock yesterday. With the exception of the southern portions, the damage to corn and wheat has been extensive.

KENTUCKY'S HOTTEST DAY

Kentucky, July 11.—Yesterday was the hottest ever recorded by the weather bureau stationed here, 105 degrees following 103 of the day before.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the government thermometer in Observer Thompson's office registered 104, the highest the mercury has climbed this summer. The heat is not so noticeable however as the wind from the north and there is some moisture in the atmosphere.

The indications for tonight and for tomorrow are fair.

ALL IMPROVING.

UNSTABLE HANKIN IS ABLE TO SIT UP AT BROOKPORT

Consistent Grant Hankin's condition is very much improved at Brookport so it is reported. He is suffering very little and sleeps well. During the day he sits up in a chair a part of the time and eats heartily. If no unfavorable symptoms develop the indications are that he will be out again soon.

Mason, the young man in jail at Metropolis, who received only a flesh wound, is almost well and Pritchett has recovered sufficiently to be moved to the upper room of the jail. The ball which was supposed to have entered the abdominal cavity has been located in the left groin.

OPEN HEADQUARTERS

REPUBLICAN STATE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE ELECTS ITS

Officers—A Stiff Fight Will Be Made in the Legislative Races in the State.

Louisville, July 11.—The Republican state campaign committee has organized by electing Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, chairman; Sam C. Shepherd, of Georgetown, secretary, and Clint McClarty, of this city, treasurer. Messrs. Ernst and McClarty are members of the committee, as is also Mr. George W. Long of Louisville. It was decided to at once open headquarters at 318 West Jefferson street, and Secretary Shepherd and a couple of clerks will be on duty there after today. Chairman Ernst will not make his headquarters here, but will run down from Covington at least once every week to look after matters demanding his attention.

The Republican outlook in the senatorial race was discussed and it was determined to wage a vigorous campaign in the legislative districts in the effort to secure Republican control in both branches of the legislature. They have eleven hold over senators.

Among the probable candidates for senators in addition to Senator DeLoe are Congressman Vincent Boring, ex-Congressman Sam J. Pugh, former Gov. W. D. Rife, Clifton J. Pratt, John W. Lewis, John W. Yerkes and Leslie Thomas.

TO DO CAIRO.

PADUCAH BOYS WILL GO DOWN TO WIN EVERYTHING IN SHIRT

Mr. Walter Wilkins, manager of the Marble Hall baseball team, has made north the date with the Cairo team for a game on the 21st. He will go down with the best team ever taken out of this city and if successful the ball paying can win out the local team will come back victorious.

Mr. Wilkins has secured the services of Mike Bergant, of Louisville, who was formerly a member of the Marble Hall team, and also Mr. Jerome Smith, the catcher now of Paris, Tenn. Bob Langford, better known as "Danton", is in the city and has consented to play with the home boys on that date. The latter has been in the professional field for the past several years and is one of the best pitchers on the diamond.

Bob Bates, of Murray, and also one or two more players, including Newt Atkinson, of Murray, will be here to play on that date. The team will be equal to a professional league team and will make a hard fight for the honors once lost. The following will probably take the excursion down from here:

WEEK'S SALES

The Tobacco Market is Not as Active as it Might Be.

THE SALES OF THE WEEK

Prices at the Warehouses Were Not Materially Changed From Those Last Week

FEW OUT OF TOWN BUYERS

The tobacco market this week experienced no change from that of last week and of the week before. The market has been a little off for the past several weeks and has not picked up from the depression of several months ago as much as was expected. The following is the report of the sales of yesterday:

Gilbert & Co. had no sales yesterday but will offer 25 hushheads today. The prices will probably be up to those of last week.

J. W. Farmer & Co. report the market as about the same as last week's. The firm offered 25 yesterday with light rejections.

Lugs brought from $4.50 to $5.00. The lugs were principally lugs with a fairly large amount of leaf.

Common leaf sold from $3.50 to $4.00. Medium leaf sold from $4.50 to $5.00 with no good or fine leaf offered.

There was a very thin attendance of out of town buyers but the local buyers were not in force. The offerings were not so large as those of last week but the bidding was about as fast and the prices experienced no depression.

The firm offers 25 hushheads today with prospects of the same price.

The Western District Warehouse Co. reports the market a little lower than that of last week. There were a few out of town buyers but their bidding was slow.

The demand for tobacco seems to be limited at present and the sale went rather slow yesterday. The following is the report of the sales yesterday:

Offered 106 with about 10 percent of the sales rejections. Lugs sold from 4 1/2 to 5 cents. Common to medium leaf sold from 3 1/2 to 7 cents.

Medium to good leaf brought from 7 to 8 1/2 cents. There was no fine leaf offered.

The offerings today will be about 25 with prospects for the same market. The depression in the market as reported by the firm is caused by the limited demand for the leaf.

BRIEF ILLNESS.

MR. J. C. JACKSON'S ROOMMATE FOUND HIM DEAD SUNDAY

Particulars of the death of Mr. J. C. Jackson, the Paducah drummer for Thompson, Wilson & Co., who died at Lake St. Charles, La., were received today. He was attacked Saturday evening by heart disease and Doctor Martin prescribed for him. That night he had another attack, and the doctor was called again. He seemed to be getting well when the doctor left about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, but his roommate found him dead about 6 o'clock. The remains were buried at Edwards, Miss., Tuesday.

The Elks took charge of the remains wherever the body was transferred in being taken to Edwards, and saw that they received the best of attention.

THE TUNNEL CAVED IN

THE L. & N. HAD A SERIOUS ACCIDENT NEAR CENTRAL CITY.

Illinois Central Soon to Spend $13,000, 000 More On Big Improvements.

The L. & N. R. had a serious accident at the tunnel just above Central City early yesterday evening. The tunnel caved in about the mouth and stopped traffic entirely on that division of the road. The company has made arrangements with the I. C. to run its trains over the latter company's tracks via Nortonville to Central City. Transmissor T. A. Banks, of this division of the I. C., left for Central City today at noon to look after the matter. The laborers have gone to work on the tunnel and will soon have it in shape again. No cause for the cave in was learned.

The negro who attempted to shoot Conductor W. Y. Hauler near Nortonville yesterday and was taken away from the train by a posse after the latter had taken his pistol away from him, was killed by some one as the train pulled out. His name was John Bessley, and he shot at the train as it was leaving Nortonville, and some of the passengers on the platform according to reports, returned the fire and killed him.

The stockholders of the Illinois Central have decided to recommend to the stockholders at the annual meeting in October, the expenditure of $13,700, 000 for improvements. To raise this it will be necessary to increase the capital stock which will then amount to $79,200,000 instead of $65,500,000. Although $6,000,000 have been expended in improvements, the facilities of the road are still poor and it is necessary to increase them in order to handle the large and increasing volume of business. Mr. J. P. Harriman, second vice president of the company, has been elected a director, as was predicted a few weeks ago.

Engineer Fitzpatrick and assistant, Mr. Driscoll, of Louisville, returned home today after doing a little summer work at the Illinois Central hospital grounds.

"Buddy" Hicks the fugitive at the North Sixth street crossing of the I. C. R. had a little more badly marked yesterday. He had his hand on the window of the flag house, when the window fell and smashed the finger so badly that it was found necessary to amputate it. He will be off date for the next several days.

THRILLING REVOLVER FIGHT

POSSE CAPTURED ONE BURGLAR AND TWO OTHERS ESCAPED ONE BEING RUN DOWN LATER

Coffey, Ind., July 11.—A posse in a thrilling revolver fight captured Harry Smith, of Louisville. Three burglars were discovered in E. H. Johnson's store. Armed citizens surrounded the store and opened fire. The burglars leaped from the second story window. One who was injured was captured. The other escaped. Smith surrendered. A Lexington telephone message says nothing or nothing was caught there today. Bloodhounds are being used. Smith says he had worked until yesterday in an Indianapolis machine shop and was on his way to Cincinnati.

LIST GROWS

Now Known to Be Twenty Killed in Horrible Railroad Wreck.

THREE OTHERS DYING

Western Kentucky Good Roads Association Organized—McCracken Is Represented.

CHIEF HAGER RESIGNS AT LOUISVILLE

THE LIST GROWS LARGER

Kansas City, July 11.—The list of dead in the Chicago and Alton wreck at Norton, Mo., grows, and there are now twenty known to be dead, three dying and twenty seriously injured. The trains were passengers and fast stock freight.

The passenger train was traveling in three sections on account of the heavy Elworth League business to San Francisco. The wrecked train was the first section and contained no baggage.

Conductor McAnna, of the freight train, east bound, had been ordered to meet the second section of the passenger at Slater, the next station east of Norton, but apparently overlooked the fact that the first section, which was fifty minutes late, had not passed. The front brakeman on the freight, who was about four cars from the engine, says Conductor McAnna took the money, stamps, records and everything else was burned. The key was found to be lost and nothing could be saved on this account. There was considerable mail burned but it is not believed that it was of any particular value.

The fighters then went in for earnest. Every time a lick was passed the fighters would clutch and punch away for dear life. The referee would have to use main force in separating them and this would be for a brief period only, for when he had turned around they would be hitting and juggling again. Finally the white man made a feint for the kid. The kid ducked and led for the white's head. Heller then ran between the kid's legs and attempted to throw him over the ropes. He was stopped in the attempt however and the kid then had a say in the game. "It's fitting will de Queensberry rules and I put up a gentleman's fight. De delection an mine on de foot."

However the agents who had contributed were running the bout and they started the boys off again. The Cincinnati boy was furious and went in apparently to put the kid's light out. After the fight had gone two rounds the fighters had become worked up to desperation and were lunging viciously at each other. They met in the second round in the southeast end of the ring and in the mixup both went to the ground, with the kid's foot in Heller's face and Heller's foot on the kid's physiotherapy.

"Phwat de yez think O'm goin' up again Riddle?" Heller cried, as he spit out several pounds of dirt. "Didn't yez see de nager's fut in me face? De folgit is moine on de foul, and I don't fight de coon any more. See."

The referee then decided in favor of the Cincinnati boy and the crowd departed. The decision was rendered however after Officer Emil Goureaux had stopped the "fight" to prevent a put out for keeps. Another bout will probably be arranged between the two fighters shortly.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ILL.

Mr. H. C. Utterback, the well known deputy sheriff, is ill at his home on west Jefferson street. He was stricken last night with vertigo and was in a dangerous condition for a while. He is somewhat improved today however.

PIEBALD PUGILISM

THE FIGHT AT TWELFTH AND TRIMBLE LASTED ONLY

Three Rounds—The Sports Insisted That the Fight Go On Or Dough Be Relinquished.

Lou Heller, of Cincinnati and the Alabama Kid, of Birmingham, Ala., met in a bout last night at Twelfth and Trimble streets, back of the Edwards' saloon and the decision was rendered in favor of Heller on a foul in the third round.

Over one hundred sports were present at the beginning of the big bout. Several preliminaries of the same hair pulling variety were witnessed before the final event.

Heller and the Kid appeared on the scene about 10:30 o'clock and after a brief introduction by Referee Charles Riddle, took their seats. The referee held a lengthy confab with the principals and their seconds and finally gravely announced that he would pass around the hat for the contributions. After the crowd had been touched the coin was counted and "found wanting." Another collection was made and the fight was finally started.

The kid left off with a lively punch at his opponent's jaw but missed. Heller then landed on the kid's ribs and in the mixup both principals fell to the ground with the kid on top.

"Be lauds, Riddle," Heller cried, "are yez going to let the coon do me? Phwat de yez think O'm agin? De folgit is moine on a foul."

Referee Riddle then silenced the mirth of the crowd the best he could and explained that the foul was unavoidable and that the fight would have to go on.

At this juncture one of the sports, who had snuck pretty liberally said, "Start the fight again or give the dough to the Home of the Friendless."

The fighters then went in for earnest. Every time a lick was passed the fighters would clutch and punch away for dear life. The referee would have to use main force in separating them and this would be for a brief period only, for when he had turned around they would be hitting and juggling again. Finally the white man made a feint for the kid. The kid ducked and led for the white's head. Heller then ran between the kid's legs and attempted to throw him over the ropes. He was stopped in the attempt however and the kid then had a say in the game. "It's fitting will de Queensberry rules and I put up a gentleman's fight. De delection an mine on de foot."

However the agents who had contributed were running the bout and they started the boys off again. The Cincinnati boy was furious and went in apparently to put the kid's light out. After the fight had gone two rounds the fighters had become worked up to desperation and were lunging viciously at each other. They met in the second round in the southeast end of the ring and in the mixup both went to the ground, with the kid's foot in Heller's face and Heller's foot on the kid's physiotherapy.

$7,000 BLAZE

Post Office at Grahamville Burned This Morning Early.

EVERYTHING WAS LOST

It is Believed That Burglars Robbed the Store in Which it Was Located and Then Fired the House.

THERE IS PARTIAL INSURANCE

The general merchandise store of J. D. Smith & Co., in which was the postoffice, was burned at Grahamville, this county, this morning between 12 and 1 o'clock. The loss will amount to $7,000 or more, covered by $3,500 insurance.

The blaze was not discovered until it had gained great headway. About the time the alarm was given the roof on the rear portion collapsed and the remainder of the building was quickly consumed.

The only thing saved was three bolts of the dress goods, found some little distance away from the store. It is believed by many that the store was robbed and then fired by burglars and that the goods recovered had been dropped in their flight.

There had been no fire about the building and there is no other threat of the fire's origin.

The postoffice property including money, stamps, records and everything else was burned. The key was found to be lost and nothing could be saved on this account. There was considerable mail burned but it is not believed that it was of any particular value.

The City of Clinton from Tennessee river passed out for St. Louis this morning with a good freight trip and full of excursionists.
The Pittsburg pilot's continue, a new organization, organized Saturday afternoon by electing Captain Joseph Price president. Captain Price has been a pilot on the river for the past 36 years and the selection is considered an excellent one. Captain Price will have many duties to perform. Matters to be brought to the attention of boat owners will fall upon his shoulders.

The City of Memphis is due tomorrow morning from St. Louis for Tennessee river.
The Tennessee is due this evening from Tennessee river and leaves on return trip next Saturday at 5 p. m.

It is the general opinion of marine weather prophets that there will be a good navigable stage of water in the Ohio river all the year, and that there will be no low water season this year," says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "It is to be hoped that their predictions may prove true, as it is a task year for business, and all the boats are carrying lots of freight and crowds of people."

The Cincinnati Journal once the very latest adaptation of electric power to the operation of the pumps for the docks. What is said to be the largest and most powerful dry dock in the world has recently been built in South Brooklyn, N. Y., and is equipped with the best of New York, from being the last one on the list of ports where repairs to large vessels could be made, has taken its proper place in the front rank, in keeping with its commercial importance. The dock is built of four pontoons, each 100 feet long, with two extensions at the end, each thirty-six feet long, although the final size of the dock is to be determined by the capacity of taking care of vessels of the very largest size. The advantage in using electric power is its great flexibility, and the fact that it can be obtained from the public lighting system of the district, making the maintenance of a power plant unnecessary. There are two large centrifugal pumps, electrically driven, which have a capacity of from 1,000 to 2,000 gallons per minute. The great speed of operation of the dock is evidenced by the fact that a 1,000-ton vessel was recently docked in exactly fifty-one minutes.

DOG-TEAMS.
Indian dogs have been at a premium in the Klondike for some time, being so great that they were bought in England at prices equal to those which a good horse would fetch elsewhere. All sorts and conditions of men found their way to the gold regions and nobody troubled himself to inquire into their antecedents, but in a few days, when the value was in inverse ratio to the civilization lately discovered, it has been found that dogs accustomed to complete idleness can be utilized in the drawing of sledges. The discovery was made when the Canadian government decided to send a police force to the Klondike. An agent went to the most likely spots in the northwest to purchase dogs for the force and reported that he could not get a dog that was a dog for any price within the limits of reason. The government then sent out another agent with orders not to be too particular in his selection. The result, according to Mr. J. B. Burman, in Forest and Stream was a company of all sorts of creatures called dogs. They were quite a variety of dogs, for instead of going among the ladies to purchase them the agent went down to Lake Superior and bought up everything in the form of a dog, from performing pointers to the pet dogs of barbers' shops. And the strangest part of the business was that the purchase was not a failure. Many of the dogs were turned into useful sled dogs, and the dogs of civilization were soon in competition with the native teams. One set of five mongrels, about the size of large Scotch terriers, none of them weighing forty pounds, drew a load of 3,000 pounds over the ice of Lake Huron. The sleds were always started for them, but once started they kept it moving. The owner, a half-breed, would follow, out of sight, encouraging them by voice and by a system of rewards. Dogs previously educated to other business acquiesced themselves well.

THE SUN'S DAILY STORY.
VAN ZANDT'S VINDICATION.
By E. H. PHILLIPS. Copyright, 1901, by the Daily Sun Publishing Co.

Asher had just finished putting an extra block of coal in the blazing grate and was tapping it with the tongs to increase the brisk glow, when one of the men spoke, thus breaking the chain of silence. Outside, the air was filled with particles of swirling snow and all portentous of a night in doors, with jovial companions, one youthful member of the Lake club puffed more vigorously than ever at his pipe. Then he stopped, looked inquiringly at the roistering hostess, who sat around the fire and advanced the words that dispelled the unusual quiet.
"Where's Vanny?" asked Collier, as the light curly locks and Arundel hair bearing, as he looked at his watch. "He told me he was coming here at 10, we're due to finish that rig game of billiards but, as yet, I've seen no sign of him. Wonder what's the matter?"
"Oh, you needn't bother about Vanny," answered Asher, as he once more seated himself in the rattling leather covered armchair. "Never knew him to keep an appointment on time. I'll lay you odds of five to one he finishes the stretch at five a quarter hour to the last. I know that's no more than he'd be willing to allow if he was here now. And besides, it would take a more fit promise than the one he made you to induce him to leave Miss Trezevant without his customary brief grace for saying 'good night.' She'll be the undoing of him. I'm afraid!"
Collier, the club's self-appointed analyst in all matters pertaining to the love affairs, rebuked the magazine he had been reading and looked up. "Well, she'll have a dandy opportunity to prove her devotion," said the gentleman. "Vanny's not the chap to allow himself to be deflected. He'll do much a devotee at the shrine of independent bachelordom, not saying, of course, that the right woman, at the proper time, may not succeed in breaking this steel-clad barrier. He's often spoken of it to me, decided the weak-mindedness of men who allow themselves to be transported hither and yon by the buffeting of a woman's caprice."
"That may be," said Collier, "but I follow against anyone in this. I'm a little bit of the ancient spirit about such of us, when it comes to a temptress, or a pretty woman, and you know that Vanny is an exception. He has the rate and the will and the skill, however one will not neutralize the other, one must give way and I'm ready to vouch for his good sense."
Sound of a familiar rattle in the corridor announced the arrival of the much-disseminated Van Zandt. He hurried to the door and a put the old fellow against anyone in this. I'm a little bit of the ancient spirit about such of us, when it comes to a temptress, or a pretty woman, and you know that Vanny is an exception. He has the rate and the will and the skill, however one will not neutralize the other, one must give way and I'm ready to vouch for his good sense."

"Where's Vanny?"
waves of Aphrodite's sea. He calls it a beautiful reason and silly sentimentality. Mary Trezevant, from what he knew of her, is not the girl to con-der the little gathering, as it was on their number was already under the shadow of some mysteriously ominous power. He who brought the pervading gloom, maintained a rigid silence, not at all in keeping with his conduct, which with glass to lips he was wont to join in the chorus.

"He's a jolly good fellow, He's a jolly good fellow, He's a jolly good fellow, He's a jolly good fellow!"
Then someone suggested the regular nightly portion, which, for some strange reason, thus far, had been overlooked. Prospects of that which was to follow brought back the good cheer and soon all were laughing and joking, conscious only of the joys of comradeship.
"Let's drink a toast to Vanny and his promises," suggested Dan Wilson, an ex-football player who was always ready for a tackle at just such critical times. At this juncture a clinking sound marked the rise of the glasses as they were held, all eyes were centered on the member whose immediate future was a matter of some concern.
"To Vanny and his promises!" all yelled and it was not until silence ensued that any of them noticed the emptiness of Van Zandt's hands. Many looked aghast, so great was their surprise.
Vanny grasped the back of his chair as he arose to give response. Something tugged at his throat, a sign of the weakness his companions would charge him with, and which made speech, for the moment, difficult. He thrust through the fog in the statement that thought of her steadied his nerves and calmed his voice, so that his words fell measurably clear and eloquent.
"I've a mission to make," he had vowed. "It's due to you, I know, since I'm the first to testify—our bond of fellowship. Your toast has taken me completely off my guard. I hadn't considered, for a moment, that you knew of the serious turn this affair had taken—how could you?—when the affirmations were made only tonight. There were two of them; the third shall be an invitation to dine with me Thursday evening. Will you come?"
A curious lot cried "Yes, go on!" They wondered what would follow next.
I don't think with you tonight, boys, because I've told you that's the first promise, and it's one I shall keep.
For the second, you had better ask Miss Trezevant."

BANDITS AND TROOPS.
COMBINE TO PLUNDER THE PEOPLE AND RESIST THE RUSSIAN IN MANCHURIA.

London, July 11.—A dispatch from Pekin says: It is reported that the Russians are rapidly completing the Manchurian railway and that they will employ 50,000 troops for the defense of the line. La Hung Chang proposes to withdraw all the Chinese troops from Manchuria with the object of avoiding all chances of collision with the Russians. If this is done Russian troops will be needed to preserve order in the province, as only Chinese policemen will be employed there according to the definition now given to the Russo Chinese agreement regarding Manchuria. It is stated that the Chinese soldiers have combined with bandits to plunder the people and resist the Russians. It appears that no control is exercised over the Chinese soldiery there.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS.
MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT AND IMPORTANT COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The electrical workers met in the office of the Wallace Electrical works last night. The most important business transacted was the appointment of a committee to wait on the employees of the local street car company, and see how many are eligible to become members of the union. There was some little trouble in the union a short time ago by several apprentices entering as journeymen. The union held a meeting and appointed a committee to examine the so-called journeymen and if they could not pass the examination, to release them and let them enter as apprentices. Those who entered as journeymen and could not pass the examinations were entered on the enrollment list as first class helpers and inside of one year they may become full-fledged journeymen. The Electrical unions publish a paper entitled "The Electrical Worker" and Mr. H. H. Rayner was elected to be the local union correspondent of the paper.

Fences do not consist of copper alone, there being in them 2 per cent of tin and 3 per cent of zinc to 95 of copper. They cost the government about 42 cents a pound exclusive of stamping, and there are 118 in a pound, so that the government makes a fair profit on every pound minted, since, while they are redeemable in gold, but few are ever presented.
